

Bergen-Berlin Behavioral Economics Workshop

Monday, 28 March
11:15 - 16:30

Program

11:15 – Welcome: Dirk Engelmann

Session 1

Chair: Dirk Engelmann

11:20 – Ranveig Falch:
Is it morally acceptable to be selfish?

11:50 – Lea Heursen:
Gender Identity and Economic Decision Making

12:20 – Sebastian Scheighofer-Kodritsch:
Explicit and implicit belief-based gender discrimination: A hiring experiment

12:50 – Justin Valasek:
A dynamic argument for positive discrimination in professions with under-represented identities

13:20-14:10 Lunch break

Session 2

Chair: Bertil Tungodden

14:10 – Hande Erkut:
Repugnant transactions: The role of agency and extreme consequence

14:40 – Sam Hirshman:
Tests of Rank Dependent Probability Weighting

15:10 – Heidi Thysen:
What makes a narrative compelling? Testing narrative choice and equilibria

15:40 – Yiming Liu:
TBA

–

16:10 – Closing remarks:
Bertil Tungodden